Tax Credits.

It is a very good idea (and I mean that more than fatuously). Have you discussed it with Frank Bross or Dick Atkinson?

But I think many companies will demand to keep their R+D close to the vest and wary about proprietary rights and secrets. But plainly a tax credit will bolster corporate philanthropic motives and may be the most effective where there is a commonness in the public expenditure of new knowledge.

Is Pat Haggerty still active on this?

Do you still exercise ARPANET?

~~Don't~~ log in 2-3 x per week
